Enlarge the creation of new objects, such as organizational units, is carried out in a similar way to that of other snap-ins for management. Since 2014 the Windows administration center, launched as the honolulu project, has continuously increased since its creation, but is mainly a complement to other tools, such as the well-known remote server management tools (rsat.) the Windows administration center is a browser-based windows management tool that is implemented locally. you can install windows admin center on Windows-10 computers or systems with windows server 2016 or 2019. the tool not only allows to manage windows systems, but also sugar services, such as azure active directory. microsoft has released the previous 1903 version of the Windows administration center as part of the insider program. with this, some tools in the key areas of active directory, dhcp and dns will be maintained. According to microsoft, the active directory support in the windows admin center is one of the most mentioned requirements in the solution response. like the other new tools, microsoft offers the tool for Active-Directory management as an extension. Figure 1: to view details, see the search in active directory. in your case, you can also use the password of theReset users. If you have installed the extension for Active Directory (AD), the tool will appear when you connect to a server that is the domain controller. For example, administrators can now create and manage users at the Windows Administration Center in AD and to assign groups. Likewise, users, groups and computers can be searched. Currently, the seasque is limited to ten categories. For more information, details can also be viewed for users, computers and groups. It is also possible that the restoration of the user's password is also possible. The DNS extension is also installed through the extension feed. The tool appears when the server is configured as a DNS server. Administrators can display details about DNS inputs, the following seaming areas and reverse search zones. In addition, it allows the tool to create ipv4 and IPv6 reverse seasking areas of different types. The administrators can configure the properties of the corresponding reverse segment area. DNS inputs of different types can be created, while the properties of the DNS inputs can be configured, such as: Anffiri³n IP address, FQDN or TTL. What was mentioned so far applies to the DHCP extension at the same time. If the unit and the server is configured as a DHCP server, the administrator can do some tasks. For example, administrators can be seen for IPv4 and IPv6 reserved addresses, IP addresses used, as well as the IP addresses excluded. Figure 2: Administrators can create and edit scope with the DHCP tool. The tool can create IPv4 and IPv6 scope and define the corresponding address ranges. You can also configure the duration of the concession, that is, the time that the IP address is reserved for a client, and exclude IP. As in the corresponding Microsoft Microsoft See buttons, the desire most frequently expressed in user comments was a ³e³mail notification function ³. This is what Azure Monitor integrates. HereThe previous point kÅ called Administrators defines personalized e³mail notifications regarding the status of the servers.
