Rusted Warfare is a real-time strategy game (RTS) where the player must deploy annihilation strategies, command and conquer to win. The game is available on all platforms that include smartphones. Features: Most importantly, here is not the pay to win what (In-App purchases) or advertising. This ensures that only pure skill is required to advance in this game and the gameplay is not interrupted by sudden 'pop-ups' ads. You can play both online and offline on a mobile network or using a wifi connection. There are many tactical strategies to fight engineers, fly a fortress, laser defense and fly ambitious jets. The interface can be easily accessible with the help of mini-maps, rally points and multi-touch support. Custom levels can be created by the player depending on his skill level. Both keyboard and mouse supports are availableplay this game. Most importantly, here is not the pay to win the thing (In-App purchases) or advertising during gameplay: The game rusted warfare is a multiplayer game that allows the player to create their own battlefields and war scenarios using the editor. There are more missions embedded with technology to such as scaramuccia, survival, campaign and challenge missions. the campaign is basically an innovative way to teach the player the mechanics of the game. in campaign mode, a player fights an opponent to and every completed task of the campaign introduces a new game mechanic to the player. the player cannot progress at the skill level until he successfully learned a certain mechanics of play. Skirmish missions are multiplayer modes of the game. this is where the payer can curve the other bases and the resources loot. is a true test of the resources (such as the weapons realized) possessed by the attacker and the defense strategy of the defender. Survival is basically to test the player's defense. in survival mode, a player must defend against successive, continuous attacks of other players and artificial intelligence of the game the last mode of the game challenge, rewards players some resources (such as gold, weapons, metals) at the completion of certain tasks. the rushed warfare interface is quite simple, all the essential actions that you can perform, such as collecting gold and minerals, can be done simply by touching / clicking on the objects concerned. thecan be released to the entire battlefield with strategic zoom technology. Overall it is quite fun and addictive game to play if you prefer to play RTS games.
