RADICAL ACCEPTANCE COPING STATEMENTS

Try saying these coping statements to yourself to help you accept a distressing situation when it arises.

- ☀ This is how it has to be.
- ☀ Everything that happened in the past has led up to now.
- ☀ I can't change what's already happened.
- ☀ There's no point fighting the past.
- ☀ I can survive the present, even if I don't like what's happening.
- ☀ I don't have control of the past.
- ☀ The present is exactly what it should be given what's happened before.

My best friends

Patrick Josh Andy Duke Angelica

Hi I'm Andy. I'm ten years old. I like sport but I love eating, too. After school I often go to the fast food bar and buy a hot dog. I'm not good at swimming but I'm a good handball player. Patrick is my friend. He is nine years old. He loves football and he is a great swimmer. Josh is eleven years old and he is a basketball player in our school team. He's the captain. He can't swim. Sue is my friend. She is eleven years old and she plays basketball very well. She is the captain in the girls' team. She loves swimming and she never eats fast food. Angelica is eight years old. She swims and runs a bit. She doesn't care about her diet and she eats a lot of junk food. She loves doughnuts.

1. Who is the youngest?
2. Who is the eldest?
3. Who is taller than Andy?
4. Whose diet is as healthy as Andy's?
5. Who plays handball as well as Sue?
6. Who is better than Josh?
7. Who is the best swimmer?
8. Who is the worst swimmer?

Compare yourself to your friend and write a sentence using comparison and superlatives.

I have included the model for the character of the FaceBook profiles, I got tired of having students by filling out the charts of the characters to learn about the characters of the novels. These are only for individual class use. Students use the conclusion of the drawing and questioning capacities in all this class activity. This lesson was used on our first and second elementary students and worship the lesson! In particular, they enter the interactive game "2 Truth and a Falsehood" and allows them to know their consultant at the same time. And what has changed them? So, each student will start with their doll and 20+ memories! Excellent activity of 1 - 2 days at the end of the school year. Roosevelt, Eleanor Roosevelt and Lyndon B. To keep up with current times, I created "Facebook" profiles for different figures of the novel; This allows students to have fun while learning to know the character. Students write the character name on the front banner and draw a picture of the character over it in the frame. The graphics come from the animated version of the BBC as it is a fantastic introduction to this representation for the young audience. These show the general characteristics of each character and their development throughout the novel. Each character includes a noise / action rhyme and a teacher version of each one. While we move towards the end of the year, those character education lessons become more and more crucial! It is also a useful way to practice flowing and personification, as well as getting different art lessons such as watercolor (washing, wet in wet, dry and falling brush) Poster by this is a list of all kinds of character traits.
